SWIFT COMPLY

A game changer for environmental compliance

SwiftComply offers a modern, partnership-based approach to fat, oil, and grease (FOG) regulation. We help regulators, food service outlets, and waste collectors to connect on one easy platform.

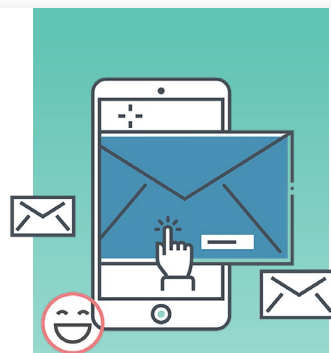

Why SwiftComply?

We're environmental professionals, like you. Our team is made up of former city employees, inspectors, and technologists who are passionate about a community approach to environmental compliance. We believe that the Future of FOG is proactive rather than reactive, and have built a solution to help cities drive compliance and save time using this approach.

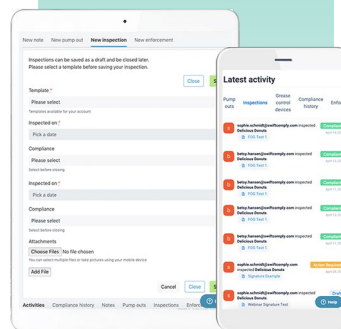

✔ Understand your priorities

SwiftComply collaborates with service providers and regulated establishments, allowing for strategic focus on critical tasks such as outreach, inspections, and enforcements. Each stakeholder can review and submit all necessary information in order to maintain compliance without mailing manifests or on-site verification.

✔ Modern, user-friendly software

We designed SwiftComply to put hours back in your day. Automate reports, reminders, and notifications, and set up electronic form submission and permit management to make the best use of your time. Say goodbye to generating invoices and filling in spreadsheets!

A community-based approach

Keep your stakeholders on the same page by collaborating through our software. Enjoy seamless communication on a variety of platforms, including desktop, tablet, and mobile, to keep your team working towards the ultimate goal of environmental compliance.
